Teams rush to sign up for Newquay Surf 7's

Once again all roads will lead to Newquay in July when teams from all over Europe will be competing in the 2010 Newquay Surf 7's Rugby Tournament.

Tournament Director Andy Hawken has today announced that the 2010 tournament is full, 108 teams will be competing in four competitions, over the weekend of the 17th and 18th July, at what is now regarded as one of Europe's top Rugby Sevens Tournaments.

Newquay will also host the finale of the first National Rugby Sevens Series, which starts in London in June, travelling to Manchester and Bath before arriving in Newquay on Saturday 17th July. Sky Sports will be covering the event, with a 90 minute highlights show, to be shown the following week.

Andy added " I never have problems attracting teams to Newquay, the facilities that we provide at Newquay Sports Centre and Newquay Tretherras School are second to none. I am also very grateful to the people and the town of Newquay who make all our competitors feel so welcome"

This year the event will include Netball and Women's Football," I have always wanted to build on the success of the Surf 7's to create a Festival of Sport. We have great facilities at both the Sports Centre and Newquay Tretherras School which allowed us to invite other sports to participate along side the Sevens.

Spectator Tickets are on sale now from Ticket Master and will be available soon from local outlets.
