

Press Release

England Ladies sign up for Newquay Surf 7's

Once again all roads will lead to Newquay in July when teams from all over Europe will be competing in the 2011 Newquay Surf 7's Rugby Tournament.

Tournament Director Andy Hawken has today announced that the 2011 tournament is full. Over the weekend of the 2nd and 3rd July, a tournament record 112 teams will be competing in what is now regarded as one of Europe's top Rugby Sevens Tournaments.

This year the Women's Open will be boosted by the inclusion of National teams from England, Sweden and Holland. They will be competing against a number of Premier league sides including Wasps, Saracens, Richmond and Welsh Premier League side Neath.

Andy added " This is by far our strongest women's competition to date, showcasing Women's Sevens Rugby at its very best"

Newquay will once again host the finale of the Super Sevens Series, the series starts in London in June, travelling to Bath before arriving in Newquay on Saturday 2nd July. The series sees the top nine rugby sevens teams in the country battling for ultimate supremacy. Last year's champions Samurai will be looking to regain their crown but the likes of three time Surf 7s champions the British Army and other top teams such as the HFW Wailers, Apache and the Marauders will be looking to overturn them. Three selected guest sides each tournament will also add a little spice to proceedings.

Andy is happy with how the tournament is developing from year to year adding " I never have problems attracting teams to Newquay, the facilities that we provide at Newquay Sports Centre and Newquay Tretherras School are second to none. I am also very grateful to our sponsors W C Rowe and Sailors and to the town of Newquay who make all our competitors feel so welcome"

Spectator tickets for this top sporting event will be available on the gate at Newquay Sports Centre.
